

Officials name Tilley as new sergeant major of Army

WASHINGTON – Secretary of the Army Louis Caldera and Army Chief of Staff Gen. Eric Shinseki announced today that Command Sgt. Maj. Jack Tilley has been selected to be the 12th sergeant major of the Army.

For the last two years, Tilley has been serving as command sergeant major for U.S. Central Command at MacDill Air Force Base, Fla. He has 32 years of experience with the Army as an armored cavalryman, including a combat tour in Vietnam.

Tilley will be sworn in June 23 after Sgt. Maj. of the Army Robert E. Hall retires. Hall, who also served at U.S. Central Command before coming to the Pentagon, has been sergeant major of the Army since Oct. 13, 1997. Hall was extended a year when Shinseki took office last June. Hall is retiring June 22, after 32 years of service.

As sergeant major of the Army, Tilley will serve as personal advisor to the Army chief of staff on all enlisted-related matters, particularly in areas affecting soldier training, noncommissioned officer leader development and soldier and family well-being.

The sergeant major of the Army devotes the majority of his time travelling throughout the Army observing training, and talking to soldiers and their families. He listens to their concerns and provides the chief of staff feedback and recommendations for the forces' well-being. He also sits on a wide variety of councils and boards that make decisions affecting enlisted soldiers and their families and is routinely invited to testify before Congress.

Tilley entered the Army at Fort Lewis, Wash., in 1966. He served in Vietnam as an armor crewman and scout driver for A Troop, 1st Squadron, 4th Cavalry, in September 1971. Since then, he has served in every position from squad leader to command sergeant major of the 1st Armored Division.

He also served as command sergeant major for Task Force Eagle in Bosnia-Herzegovina.

Tilley spent much of his career serving in Germany and Fort Knox, Ky. He served at Knox as tank commander, instructor, operations sergeant, battalion and later brigade command sergeant major with the 194th Separate Armored Brigade. He also served tours at Fort Polk, La.; Fort Lewis, Wash.; and Fort Benning, Ga.

Prior to his assignment at U.S. Central Command, he was command sergeant major of the U.S. Army Space and Missile Defense Command, Arlington, Va.

His military schools include the Drill Sergeant School, Master Gunner Course, First Sergeant Course and the Sergeants Major School, where he graduated from Class 28 in 1987.

His awards include three Legions of Merit, the Bronze Star with V Device, three Meritorious Service Medals, Vietnam Service Medal and Campaign Medal, Presidential Unit Citation, two Overseas Service Ribbons, NCO Professional Development Ribbon, Drill Sergeant's Badge and Parachutist's Badge.

He is married to the former Gloria Smith and they have two sons, Brian and Kevin.

Commander discusses upcoming official renaming of Presidio of Monterey Annex

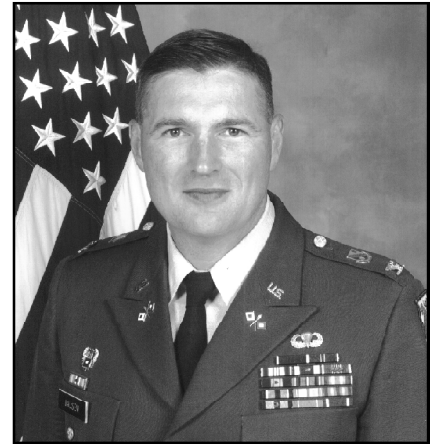

Hello All,

Very soon we will be celebrating another milestone for our community. We will be officially changing our name from the Presidio of Monterey Annex to the Ord Military Community.

This was the result of a great many requests on the part of the whole community and a long, arduous paperwork process. But we have now gotten the word that the paperwork has been approved by Headquarters, Department of the Army and is working its way back to us. Within the month we will change signage and will commemorate the event with a special celebration. Please stay tuned for the announcements. We hope to see you there!

Thanks for listening.

Happy Birthday

Officials send message to soldiers on 225th birthday

The following is a joint message from the Honorable Louis Caldera, Secretary of the Army, and Gen. Eric Shinseki, Army Chief of Staff:

Army Birthday 2000

At the dawn of a new century and a new millennium, we can look back with pride at the Army's 225 years of service to the nation. The birth of the Army in 1775 was the prelude to the birth of freedom the following year, when our nation was born. For over two centuries the Army courageously fought our country's wars and served honorably in peace. As we enter a new millennium, we can be proud of our history and of the Army's achievements. Thanks to American soldiers, freedom's light shines as a beacon throughout the world.

The Army has always had a non-negotiable contract with the American people to fight and win the nation's wars. Gen. Douglas MacArthur said it best in a 1962 address at the United States Military Academy: "Yours is the profession of arms, the will to win, the sure knowledge that in war there is no substitute for victory – and that if we fail, the nation will be destroyed." Today, victory has many faces, and each face reflects the accomplishments of the American soldier. Today's victories mean more than destroying an opponent. The face of victory in the 21st century is a child who can safely walk in a Balkan village square or go to school because American soldiers are there. It shines in the face of a victim of a mudslide in South America or a hurricane in Honduras, who can drink safe water because American soldiers are there. The face of victory is also the face of an American soldier standing guard in Korea, whose presence keeps aggressors at bay.

The key to the Army's success is our flexibility and willingness to change, to meet the world as it is, without altering the core competencies that make the Army the best fighting force in the world.

You are the best Army in the world. As we undergo a dynamic transformation over the next decade, you will continue to be respected by allies, feared by opponents, and honored and esteemed by the American people. Your courage, dedication to duty and selfless service to the nation is the hallmark you, the soldiers of the United States Army, carry into the 21st century.

Tips can save money for TRICARE users with supplemental plans

If you or your family have other health insurance with a Health Maintenance Organization and plan to use TRICARE, the following information may help you to avoid paying higher costs for care. If you have other health insurance, federal law requires that TRICARE only pay after the other insurance is used. Only Medicaid and TRICARE supplemental plans are exempted from this rule.

If you have health insurance with an HMO and wish to use TRICARE, be sure that the providers you use are available through both your HMO and TRICARE. By doing so, you will avoid paying costly health care bills. You must know what the coverage requirements and limitations are for both HMO and TRICARE.

If your other insurer is an HMO and you choose to see a provider outside your HMO plan, under federal law, TRICARE cannot cover your charges and the provider can bill you for the entire amount. HMOs limit their coverage to a panel of providers and will only pay if you see one of the providers in the HMO's panel.

For instance, you want to see a family counselor. However, you don't want to see the therapist available within your HMO's plan – you'd rather see a psychiatrist available through TRICARE. TRICARE cannot cover the claim in this case because you chose to go outside your HMO plan.

TRICARE will pay secondary to an HMO in certain instances, such as when the service is not a benefit of the HMO, but is a benefit of TRICARE. Examples of such situations include mental health care or prescription coverage. You must submit to TRICARE an 'explanation of benefits' statement from your HMO showing the denial of the service requesting to be covered by TRICARE.

In some cases, neither your HMO nor TRICARE will cover a service, such as seeing a chiropractor. If you want a service that isn't covered by your HMO or TRICARE, be prepared to pay for it out-of-pocket. (Courtesy of Foundation Health Federal Services for TRICARE)

Presidio Police offer information on family violence

Did you know?

In California, it is a crime for any person to threaten, beat, sexually assault or otherwise harm another person, even if they are married.

Family violence is more than just a “family problem,” it is a crime.

Battering is not exclusively a crime against women, but they do constitute the majority of victims; thus this section is directed primarily to the battered wife or woman.

Although we have no statistics on the incidence of domestic violence, we do know that:

Approximately 30 percent of female homicide victims in the United States are killed by their husbands or boyfriends.

Females are much more likely than males to be killed by their spouse.

Domestic violence affects at least one out of every four American families.

From 1973 to 1981 the United States Department of Justice statistics reports that 2.2 million women reported abuse by a mate.

Why do they stay?

The most frequently asked question concerning a battering situation is why does she stay? While reasons cover the range from children, love, guilt, fear, pride, embarrassment, financial dependence – or a combination thereof – it is very possible the woman is unaware she may be locked into a cycle of violence.

Three-phase theory of battered women

The family violence cycle consists of three phases: the tension-building phase, the acute-battering incident and the loving reconciliation.

Tension-building phase: During this phase the woman senses her mate’s increasing tension. He is “edgy” and perhaps challenges her and tells her she is stupid, incompetent, etc. The woman may internalize her appropriate anger at the man’s unfairness and experience physical effects such as depression, tension, anxiety and headaches. As the tension in the relationship increases, minor episodes of violence increase, such as pinching, slapping or shoving.

Acute-battering incidents: The tension-building phase ends in an explosion of violence. The woman may or may not fight back. Following the battering, she is in a state of physical and psychological shock. The man may discount the episode and underestimate the woman’s injuries.

Loving reconciliation: During the last phase of the family violence cycle, both parties have a sense of relief that “it’s over.” The man is often genuinely sorry for what happened and is fearful that his partner will leave him. He apologizes and may “shower” her with love and praise that helps her repair her shattered self-esteem. He tells her he can’t live without her, so she feels responsible for his well-being and guilty for her actions and blames herself for what led up to the abuse.

Increasing spiral of violence

Once violence has begun, it continues to increase in both frequency and severity. Understanding the psychological consequences of her violent relationship can help the woman take power and choose constructive alternatives, as well as aid those who intervene to help her. If you become a victim of family violence:

- ☐ Call the police or sheriff
- ☐ Make sure you are safe from another beating.

Whenever you believe you are in danger, leave your home and take your children with you. Also, take important papers such as your birth certificate and vehicle registration.

- ☐ Get medical attention. Don’t try to treat yourself; you may be injured much more seriously than you realize.
- ☐ Seek assistance. Whether or not you file charges against your batterer, you may need to talk to a professional about your situation. Contact your local battered women’s shelter, women’s support group or victim’s assistance center.

- ☐ Save all the evidence or proof that you can. You may even want to take photographs of your injuries. Whether or not you file charges now, you may later change your mind and will then need proof that you have been assaulted.

Everyone has the right to be safe from threats and beatings – but you must take that first step. Once you recognize that it isn’t your fault and it is possible to change your situation, seek the help you need to correct your situation.

For more information on domestic violence contact the Presidio of Monterey Police Department, Crime Prevention Officer at 242-7868.

AAFES plans increase to DPP interest rate

The Army and Air Force Exchange Service will increase its Deferred Payment Plan interest rate from 13.75 percent to 14.25 percent.

The raise follows a recent announcement by the Federal Reserve that the U.S. prime interest rate would increase to 9.5 percent. AAFES officials explained that the Exchange Credit Program, in accordance with its terms and conditions, offers a variable interest rate that is 4.75 percent above the U.S. prime rate. However, a charge purchase is required in order for the new DPP interest rate to go into effect.

AAFES, just like other retailers and other bank card issuers, must borrow funds to provide credit to customers, officials said. Rates are flexible because as interest rates in the general economy go up, AAFES pays more for funds that it borrows for the DPP credit program.

AAFES officials said they are hopeful that rates in the general economy are reaching a peak, which will provide stabilization and the possible lowering of rates next year. (Courtesy of Army News Service, taken from an AAFES release)

If your ad is dated (05-05), you must contact us before the Wednesday deadline to have it renewed.

Classified ads policy

Military members, retirees and Department of Defense civilian employees, with valid identification cards, are authorized to place classified ads in the Community News.

To place an ad in the Community News, complete the form on the back page of the Community News and deliver it to the Public Affairs Office, Building 614, Room 142, Presidio of Monterey, 93944. Ads may also be sent via e-mail to the editor at cnews@pom-emh1.army.mil. Individuals should ensure to include all information requested on the form, including the category of the ad.

Daytime work telephone numbers are for use by Community News staff only; they will not be listed in ads. Individuals may place up to three ads per household, in different categories, per issue. Each ad should not exceed 35 words; each item for sale should be valued at least $10.

The Community News staff will make every effort to publish ads accurately, but we reserve the right to edit ads to meet readability, format and space requirements. Individuals should notify the editor of typographical errors, and they will be corrected as early as possible.

Acceptable classified ads include items in the categories of Autos; Motorcycles; Trucks, Vans, Sport, RVs; Wanted; Sports Equipment; Entertainment, Music Items; Computers and Accessories; Lost and Found; Miscellaneous; Pets or Household Items. Items must be for one-time sale or for free—not for a profit-sharing venture of multiple items. Classified ads for businesses, rentals, free information, help for hire or tutoring, or illegal items are not authorized.

California firearms laws state that it is “unlawful for a person who is not a licensed firearms dealer to sell, loan or otherwise transfer a firearm to a non-licensed person unless the sale, loan, or transfer is completed through a licensed dealer or law enforcement agency.” Because of this statewide restriction, ads for guns or weapons are not authorized.

Each ad will be published in three consecutive issues unless it is renewed or cancelled. The date the ad was first published is printed in parentheses following each ad. Classified ads may be renewed or cancelled by phone; however, new ads, additions or major changes to ads must be done in writing before the Wednesday deadline for the next issue, generally a week and a half prior to publication.

Refer questions to the Public Affairs Office at 242-5104.

Moving? Individuals may call the Public Affairs Office
at 242-5104 to cancel classified ads.
Be sure to identify the category, first few words of the ad, phone number in ad.
